

Dear Student:

Welcome to DeVry University and our Keller Graduate School of Management. I applaud the important step you have taken by understanding the value of higher education, especially in today's economy. Let our University help you toward changing your future for the better. Whether you are continuing your education right from high school or entering a new career field, we are here to assist you in achieving your educational and career goals.

DeVry University has outstanding, dedicated and approachable professors with the knowledge and ability to help you prepare for the future. Our programs and support services are designed to guide and enrich your college experience. Our Website www.atl.devry.edu is a valuable resource to learn about Orientation all the way through Graduation and much in-between: the academic calendar, scheduling, academics, tutoring, and student activities, to name a few.

Earning a degree requires significant commitments of focus and resources that are not always easy to achieve. We understand there may be times you will need to reach out. You are not alone. Please be assured we stand ready to work with you and guide you on your pathway to success.

Again, welcome to DeVry University and our Keller Graduate School of Management.

Sincerely,
